

We care for Florida's unique natural communities.

That's our promise.

At Mosaic, our nearly 4,000 Florida employees are devoted to preserving the integrity of our environment while producing essential phosphate crop nutrients. We understand the importance of the unique natural systems that make up our larger watersheds. Our reclaimed bay swamps carefully emulate natural bay swamps; they are characterized by dense, low vegetation, dominated by mixtures of sweet bay, red bay and loblolly bay, and scattered with dahoon holly, red maple and pine trees. With the proper hydrologic modeling and care, reclaimed bay swamps rival the function of their natural counterparts and provide essential wildlife habitat for future generations.
